Information, Activities & How to come to Naxos

Activities In Mikri Vigla

Mikri Vigla is a quiet area 18 km away from the port of Naxos, ideal place for relaxing holidays. This area is famous for the special weather conditions. During July and August there is a local wind with north direction. It start at 8:30am like a soft wind and continue to be stronger and stronger until middle of day, after start to be quiet till to the sunset where is quiet again. 'Meltemi' makes the area ideal for wind sports and except this makes you not feeling hot during the summer days.

In the area you will find two super markets and 6 restaurants in walking distance from Oasis studios. The area is deal for walking, joking, mountain bike, water sports, swimming or as a base for your daily excursions to the rest of the beautiful places of Naxos or the nearest islands. During the day you can swim in the pool or you can choose between the two beaches (it depends from the weather conditions and your interests).

In 'Partena' beach (700m sandy beach) only 80m away from Oasis studios there are two windsurfing and kite surfing centers where you can have lessons or rent the materials that you need to enjoy your favorite sport. During the days that there is no wind we suggest you to rent a kano and visit the little island with the small church of 'Panagia Parthena' (Virgin Mary) or enjoy beach volley. Next to 'Parthena beach' there are also other smaller beaches.

In 'Small port' beach (a part of a 4km sandy beach) you will find organize beach with seslongs and umbrellas with calm water during meltemi so you can enjoy swimming or diving. If you walk along the beach you will find 'saxara beach', 'kastraki bech', 'glyfada beach' and 'aliko beach'.

For those who walking they can walk to 'Plakas' tower (5km round distance) or to continue to the village of 'Tripodes' (8km round distance), or walk to 'oskelos' tower (7km round distance). We will suggest you more path not only around Mikri Vigla but also around the island. Of course during the afternoon we suggest you to walk to the hill of Mikri Vigla and enjoy a wonderful sunset.

Also, in the area you can enjoy horse ridding. There is a center 1km away from Oasis studios with different roots. They walk through traditional paths and they continue along the beaches Mikri Vigla to Kastraki or Mikri Vigla to Orkos or Plaka.

We can organize for you to rent a car, or a motorcycle or a motorbike.

Mikri Vigla

In Mikri Vigla we come to the circular road, which starts from Hora, passing through the villages of Glinado, Agios Arsenios and Tripodes and ending up in the south at Pyrgaki. The rock of Mikri Vigla, which separates the sandy beaches of Parthenos and Mikri Vigla, at one time was used as a watch out point for pirates (a vigla is a small look-out tower).

Today this area is used for surfers who cat across the sea between the beaches of Orkos, Mikri Vigla and the islet of Parthenos. Because of the perfect weather conditions the beach of Parthenos has become a meeting place for surfers from all over the world. Mikri Vigla beach with its white sand and crystal, clear water, stretches as far as the eye can see. All of this area is perfect for quiet idyllic holidays, far away from the crowds.

About Mikri Vigla: The rock of Mikri Vigla ("little lookout"), which separates the beaches of "Parthenos" and "small port of Mikri Vigla" and is in southwest side , in a quiet area 20km away from Naxos town.

In the area there are six taverns in a distance of 50m to 300m from Oasis studios and two super markets – bakery a distance of 200m.

The area can be used for walking, joking, mountain bike, water sports, swimming or use as a base for your daily excursions to the rest of the beautiful places of Naxos or the nearest islands.

Mikri Vigla is a cape at the south-west part of Naxos 18km away from Naxos town. To visit Mikri Vigla you need to follow the road that is passing through the villages of Glinado, out from Agios Arsenios and Vivlos (or Tripodes).

The cape separates two beaches, the first one from the north-side it is called "Parthena" (the name was given from a little church "Panagia Parthena= Virgin Mary" that is building on a small rock-island opposite from the cape and celebrate 40 days after the Eastern) and it is a big sandy beach with sand that seems like rise and

The rock of Mikri Vigla ("little lookout") was used from the local people during the centuries, like a lookout. Always somebody stay on the top of the rock and in case that he could see a piratical boat he opened a fire that the closed areas could see and the transferred this signal which the same way to the rest island and so all the location was prepare against the enemies.

The weather in the area is calm, except during July and August. In these months during the morning there is no wind until 08:00 o'clock and then it starts a soft win that during the day is stronger and it stops again during the afternoon. This is that we call 'Meltemi' and make 'Parthena' beach ideal place for the wind-surfers and kite-surfers.

In Mikri Vigla there are two super markets-bakeries and six taverns service fresh fish and traditional Greek and Naxos dishes with local fresh products.

The area can be used for walking, joking, mountain bike, water sports (wind-surfing, kite-surf and kano), swimming or use as a base for your daily excursions to the rest of the beautiful places of Naxos

The Island of Naxos

Naxos is the biggest and most fertile island of the Cyclades. Its rich geographical relief has created dramatic changes of scenery. High mountains, fertile valleys, plateaus, springs, rivers, caves, huge beaches, sand dunes with cedar trees growing on them, all existing harmoniously on this small piece of earth.

Naxos is one of the few islands, which has been inhabited continuously since ancient times (end of the 4th millennium B.C.) till today.

It has been possible to gather information about the history of the Aegean from traces left behind from each historical period, along with unique monuments which are scattered all over the island.

Naxos has the cosmopolitan atmosphere of a modern tourist resort, but at the same time has kept its traditional colour and it's local culture.

Hora (the main town) is a harbour and the administrative centre of the island. It is a modern town, which offers all kinds of facilities. There is a Health Centre, banks, a very good market place and lots of restaurants, bars and cafes. It has a lively nightlife, not only during the summer months, like most islands, but all the year round.

It's famous beaches on the south western side of the island, which are made up of kilometers of white golden sand, are being developed rapidly, but at the same time still maintain some of the atmosphere of the seventies when they were discovered by the "flower people".

However for someone to really get to know Naxos, he must visit the inland areas, the mountain villages, to walk the paths which crisscross the island, to listen to the violin and the lute at one of the local festivals and to get drunk on the island's energy.

Ladies and gentleman, welcome to Naxos.

at Chora

The archeological museum

All findings from excavations are kept in the archaeological museum, proof of the uninterrupted cultural presence in Naxos from pre-historic times until the end of the ancient times. The museum is housed in the building of the former Commercial School in the area of the Castle.

Grota's archaeological site

Excavations made under Metropolis square have revealed some remains of the Mycenaean city of Naxos (1600 - 1100 B.C). The place has been landscaped and it is open to the public.

"Portara": Naxos' trademark

Portara can be seen from afar as ships approach the island of Naxos, standing on the northern side of the port. This monument is a gigantic gate, which remains from a temple that was dedicated to Apollo. It was built during the 6th century B.C, when Naxos used to be a commercial and cultural centre.

The castle

An impressive monument which was built during the long Venetian rule (1204-1537); it is located on a hill which is the natural acropolis of Hora. A medieval town in the heart of the Aegean still in its original form, inhabited continuously since 1207. The external walls of the peripheral houses shape the wall of the Castle, which has only three entrance gates.

Outside of Hora

The museums of Apeiranthos

The village Apeiranthos has a museum of archeology, geology and folk art. In the archeological museum there are pre-historic exhibits that have been excavated from the southeastern part of the island.

Iria - Dionysus' sanctuary

The Iria sanctuary, situated 10 kilometres south from Hora, at Livadi area, was the formal sanctuary of the city of Naxos, dedicated to Dionysus. During the various historical periods some buildings were destroyed and new ones were built over them. It has been discovered that at the fourth Iria temple (580-550 BC) was the beginning of classical Greek marble architecture. The restoration of the site is finished.

Sagri - Demeter's temple

It is situated south of the village Sagri, at Gyroulas area. The marble temple was dedicated to Demeter (the goddess of fertility) and to Apollo and is one of the best preserved ancient buildings in Greece, dating from 530 B.C. The restoration of the site is finished and there is also a small museum.

Kouros (Flerio)

At Flerio, near the village of Melanes, there is a half finished male statue, belonging to the 7th century B.C., 6.4 metres tall, which was found in an olive grove.

Kouros (Apollonas)

Near the village Apollonas and near to the entrance of an ancient mine, there is a half finished "Kouros" (male statue) lying on the ground, which has never been moved from this spot. The statue is 10.45 metres high and is dated at the beginning of the 6th century B.C.

Plaka's tower

It is an ancient Greek tower, situated on the dirt road, which connects the village Tripodes to Plaka beach.

Himarros' tower

This tower is one of the most famous ancient monuments on the island and is situated towards the northeastern side of the island, about half way between Zas, Naxos' highest mountain, and the sea. Himarros tower is an imposing, marble, circular fortress, belonging to the Hellenistic period (4-3 centuries B.C.).

Apalirou castle

It was the strongest fortress in Naxos and the administrative centre of the island during the Byzantine empire, situated on the top of an unapproachable mountain in the area of Sagri.

Apano Kastro (Upper castle)

It is situated on the top of a mountain in the area of Tragea. Apano Kastro (Castle) was in use during several historical periods, from ancient times up to the Venetian rule. There are paths, which lead to the castle from the villages Tsikalario and Potamia.

The fortified monastery of Fotodotis (light giver) Christ

It is situated next to the village of Danakos. According to a legend it was built by a princess during the byzantine years.

The church of Protothroni Virgin

The church of Protothroni Virgin (9th-10th cent.) in the village Halki is the biggest Byzantine church in Naxos, with important wall paintings. Mass has been held here since Early Christian times until today.

The church of Drosiani Virgin

The church of Drosiani Virgin near the village of Moni is one of the best-preserved monuments from the early Christian era in the whole of southeastern Europe.

It was constructed in three stages starting from the early Christian period. The oldest frescoes are from the 7th century.

The Venetian Towers

They can be found all over the island and they were built during the long Venetian rule. The Venetian towers were built with Naxian stone, un-plastered without any covering so that they blended in with the countryside. The most important Venetian Towers are the Bellonia tower, built a little way out of the village Galanado, the towers of Gratsia and Markopoliti, in the area of Tragea, the tower of Fragopoulos, in the village Kourounohori and the Barotsi tower, in the village Filoti.

The fortified monastery of Virgin Mary (Ipsiloteria)

A monastery-tower dedicated to the Virgin Mary built in 1600, situated on the road, which leads from the village Galini to the coast of Amitis.

Agia

In Agia, about 6 klm. from the village Apollonas, in a strategic spot near to the most northerly point of the island is the Tower of Agia. Not far from the tower amongst plane trees and running water is the old monastery of the Holy Virgin with its miraculous icon, which according to tradition, was found in the sea.

THE ENDLESS SANDY BEACHES OF THE SOUTHWEST SIDE

From the bay of St. George, south of Hora up until the bay of Agiassos, there is one magical beach after another; St. Prokopis, St. Anna, Plaka, Orkos, Mikri Vigla, Kastraki, Aliko, Pargaki and Agiassos. St. Prokopis and St. Anna beaches are well organized for tourism with shops of every kind. The rest of the beaches offer facilities for the tourist but they are not so crowded.

Agios Georgios (St. George)

This is the popular and busy beach south of Hora and is large and sandy with crystal, clear shallow water, protected from the wind and ideal for children.

There are shops of every kind and organized water sports.

Agios Prokopis (St Prokopis)

St. Prokopis beach (4 klm. from Hora) with its wide stretch of sand and crystal clear sea, like a huge swimming pool, is very popular. There are many facilities for tourists on the beach and organized sea sports.

Agia Anna (St. Anna)

The beach of Agia Anna (5 klm. from Chora) is a continuation of the beach of Agios Prokopis. Agia Anna beach offers many facilities for the tourist and there are organized sea sports. There is a rare kind of cedar tree, which grows along the beach, which is like the Lebanese cedar and thrives in hot sand.

Plaka

Further on from the beach at Agia Anna, is Plaka, a sandy beach several kilometres long. A dirt road separates the beach from some tavernas and bars, which are spread out along the beach.

MIKRI VIGLA

The rock of Mikri Vigla (16 klm. from Chora), separates the sandy beaches of Parthenos and Mikri Vigla. Because of the perfect weather conditions the beach of Parthenos has become a meeting place for surfers from all over the world. Mikri Vigla beach with its crystal clear water stretches as far as the eye can see. There are few tavernas.

Kastraki

Carrying on from Mikri Vigla is Kastraki beach (15 klm. from Hora) with its white sand and clear water. In this area there are some ancient remains and the Tower of Oskelos. There are few tavernas.

Aliko

Aliko is a sandy beach with sand dunes, cedar trees and exotic atmosphere. It is not a well-known beach and it is quiet. In the area there are few tavernas.

Pyrgaki

The circular road, which starts from Hora, ends up in the south at Pyrgaki, a magical sandy beach with cedar trees. There are tavernas.

Agiasos

Agiasos is a sandy isolated beach with sallow clear water. There are two dirty roads leading to Agiasos. One of them starts just outside Sangri and the other just before Pyrgaki. There is a taverna next to the sea.

THE EAST COAST

On the eastern side of Naxos there are also magical beaches, far away from the tourist development and the tourist crowds. Apollonas is the exception. On the east coast you can find a peaceful place just for you and your company even the summer months.

Apollonas

Apollonas (54klm from Hora) is a beautiful, green, seaside settlement on the northeast side of the island, with picturesque tavernas and cafes. There is a large beach made up of small white marble pebbles and an area of sand. Just outside the settlement, you will see a half finished "Éouros" (male statue) lying on the ground, which has never been moved from this spot.

Lionas

Just outside the village of Koronos there is a road, which leads to the beach of Lionas (40 klm. from Hora). It is a small quiet, beautiful pebble beach, perfect for those who want to get away from the crowds. There is a settlement and few tavernas next to the sea.

Moutsouna

Outside Apiranthos there is a road which leads to Moutsouna (39 klm. from Hora) a beautiful little seaside settlement with picturesque tavernas situated right on the edge of the beautiful beach. Moutsouna is the port from where emery was shipped during the period of thriving commercial activity.

Psili Ammos

From Moutsouna starts a seaside road, which leads south to the wonderful beach of Psili Ammos. It is a fine sandy beach with sand dunes, cedar trees and idyllic atmosphere.

Kalados

On the southern tip of Naxos is the bay of Calados, a magical place sheltered from the wind, where the land meets the sea. Calados is reachable only by boat (there is a very rough dirt road, which starts from Filoti and leads to Calados but we do not recommend it unless you have a suitable vehicle.) It's necessary to take supplies if you decide to visit the beach.

THE BEACHES OF THE NORTHWEST SIDE

On the northwestern coast of Naxos there are some quiet beaches, ideal for swimming, but exposed to northerly winds.

Ambram

Ambram beach (25 klm. from Hora) is a wonderful beach for swimming, with crystal clear water. There is a taverna next to the sea. Close to the bay is the monastery of Phaneromeni (17th century), with rare icons.

Amitis

From Galini starts the road, which leads to Amitis, a long sandy quiet beach.

On the road stands a monastery - tower dedicated to the Virgin Mary.
